For this project the goal became to model the new workplace around the staff experience and the shared culture, rather than strictly from upper management's perspective. The result is a workplace environment crafted around the agency's work culture and ethos. To break with the typical corporate office look, the design brief drew inspiration from hospitality and wellness destinations; to materialize the vision, LAAB proposed a surprisingly hushed lighting scheme with a dramatic and darker palette that channels a distinctive lounge vibe. The hotel-like circulations provide a functional yet stylish variety of lounges, nooks, and meeting spaces to service an infinite range of tasks and interactions. Atmospheric interior, plenty of plants and practical spaces meet versatile needs and moods throughout a workday.
